ATM Welcomes Bob Dullanty to Provide Structural Engineering Services

Over 20 years of experience available to ATM teams, partners, and clients

Charleston, S.C. – Applied Technology & Management, Inc., welcomes Robert Dullanty, Sr., P.E., who brings over 20 years of experience as a structural engineer and principal of his own firm. Dullanty comes to the Charleston, S.C., office to support the Coastal-Marina Division and ATM teams, partners, and clients.

Dullanty provides structural engineering services as well as project management, inspection, and expert witness skills. His experience includes both heavy and recreational marine structures as well as bridges, industrial structures, buildings, roads and forensic investigations. He has designed wharfs, bulkheads, docks, and many other marine structures.

Dullanty is licensed as a Professional Engineer in Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Washington, and Alaska. In addition to running his own firm, he has worked for the South Carolina State Ports Authority in Charleston, a private consulting firm in Anchorage, and Boeing Commercial Airplane Co. in Seattle.
